The Best Women's Travel Writing, Volume 8 Apr 18 2022 Since publishing the original edition of A Woman's World in 1995, Travelers' Tales has been the recognized leader in women's travel literature, and with the launch of the annual series The Best Travel Writing in 2004, the obvious next step was an annual collection of the best women's travel writing of the year. This title is the eighth in an annual series—The Best Women's Travel Writing—that presents stimulating, inspiring, and uplifting adventures from women who have traveled to the ends of the earth to discover new places, peoples, and facets of themselves. The common threads connecting these stories are a woman's perspective and fresh, compelling storytelling to make the reader laugh, weep, wish she were there, or be glad she wasn't. The points of view and perspectives are global, and themes are as eclectic as in all of our books, including stories that encompass spiritual growth, hilarity and misadventure, high adventure, romance, solo journeys, stories of service to humanity, family travel, and encounters with exotic cuisine.

Travel Writing and the Natural World, 1768-1840 Oct 24 2022 Taking as a starting point the parallel occurrence of Cook's Pacific voyages, the development of natural history, scenic tourism in Britain, and romantic travel in Europe, this book argues that the effect of these practices was the production of nature as an abstract space and that the genre of travel writing had a central role in reproducing it.

The Best American Travel Writing 2014 Jun 08 2021 Presents an anthology of the best travel writing published in 2014, selected from magazines, newspapers, and web sites.

Interpersonal Encounters in Contemporary Travel Writing Oct 12 2021 This critical study examines the theme of interpersonal encounter in a range of late twentieth- and early twenty-first-century travel writing written in French and Italian. Structured typologically, each chapter focuses on a typical activity that brings traveller-protagonists into contact with other people. Drawing on literary critical studies of travel writing, sociological and anthropological approaches to tourism, as well as research in French and Italian area studies, 'Interpersonal Encounters in Contemporary Travel Writing' locates the concept of encounter within the context of modern tourism.

Voordat de koffie koud wordt Jan 03 2021 Een moderne bestseller uit Japan. Voor de lezers van De kat van Takashi Hiraide en Als katten van de wereld verdwijnen van Genki Kawamura In een steegje in Tokio zit al meer dan honderd jaar een café dat zorgvuldig gebrouwen koffie schenkt. Dit cafeetje biedt de klanten een unieke ervaring: de kans om terug in de tijd te reizen. Voordat de koffie koud wordt beschrijft vier prachtige verhalen van café-gasten die het verleden een bezoekje willen brengen. De eerste wil de man die haar verliet confronteren, de tweede wil een brief terugvinden van haar man wiens geheugen is verdwenen door de ziekte van Alzheimer, de derde wil haar zus voor een laatste keer spreken en de vierde wil haar dochter voor de eerste keer ontmoeten. Maar de reis naar het verleden is niet zonder risico: de gasten moeten naar het heden terugkeren voordat hun kopje koffie koud geworden is.

Noord-Korea dagboek May 19 2022 Michael Palin op ontdekkingsreis door Noord-Korea In 2018 bracht voormalig Python-lid en fervent wereldreiziger Michael Palin twee weken door in Noord-Korea. Een land dat volkomen is afgesloten van de buitenwereld, een land zonder internet en een telefoonsignaal. Een land waar het plattelandsleven zich nog altijd wanhopig vastklampt aan eeuwenoude tradities terwijl de steden zijn volgebouwd met hypermoderne wolkenkrabbers en luxueuze ondergrondse treinstations. Kortom: een land dat zich uitermate goed leent voor een paliniaans reisverslag. In zijn Noord-Korea dagboek beschrijft Palin zijn reis van dag tot dag. Hij doet niet alleen verslag van wat hij zag – en alles wat de autoriteiten voor hem verborgen probeerden te houden – maar deelt ook de gesprekken die hij voerde met inwoners, zijn ontmoetingen met officials, en zijn overpeinzingen over een land dat zo volkomen anders is dan alle landen die hij tijdens zijn eerdere reizen heeft bezocht – een land waar angst en fascinatie voor hem hand in hand gaan. Het resultaat is een rijkgeïllustreerd reisverslag en een zeldzaam kijkje achter de schermen in Noord-Korea. En met zijn kenmerkende humor en warmte is er geen betere reisleider dan Palin om kleur te geven aan deze sombere maar toch unieke regio.

Travel Writing Feb 28 2023 An increasingly popular genre – addressing issues of empire, colonialism, post-colonialism, globalization, gender and politics – travel writing offers the reader a movement between the familiar and the unknown. In this volume, Carl Thompson: introduces the genre, outlining competing definitions and key debates provides a broad historical survey from the medieval period to the present day explores the autobiographical dimensions of the form looks at both men and women’s travel writing, surveying a range of canonical and more marginal works, drawn from both the colonial and postcolonial era utilises both British and American travelogues to consider the genre's role in shaping the history of both nations. Concise and practical, Travel Writing is the ideal introduction for those new to the subject, as well as a crucial overview of current debates in the field.

Postcolonial Travel Writing Feb 16 2022 With its inclusion of original essays challenging the view of travel writing as a Eurocentric genre, this book will stand as a benchmark study of future inquiries in the field. It will revitalize the critical debate, sparking a much needed rethinking of a vibrant and highly popular but also volatile genre that has seen many changes in recent years.

J. M. Synge and Travel Writing of the Irish Revival Nov 25 2022 Between the late 1890s and the early 1900s, the young Irish writer John Millington Synge journeyed across his home country, documenting his travels intermittently for ten years. His body of travel writing includes the travel book The Aran Islands, his literary journalism about West Kerry and Wicklow published in various periodicals, and his articles for the Manchester Guardian about rural poverty in Connemara and Mayo. Although Synge’s nonfiction is often considered of minor weight compared with his drama, Bruna argues persuasively that his travel narratives are instances of a pioneering ethnographic and journalistic imagination. J. M. Synge and Travel Writing of the Irish Revival is the first comprehensive study of Synge’s travel writing about Ireland, compiled during the zeitgeist of the preindependence Revival movement. Bruna argues that Synge’s nonfiction subverts inherited modes of travel writing that put an emphasis on Empire and Nation. Synge’s writing challenges these grand narratives by expressing a more complex idea of Irishness grounded in his empathetic observation of the local rural communities he traveled amongst. Drawing from critically neglected revivalist travel literature, newspapers and periodicals, and visual and archival documents, Bruna sketches a new portrait of a seminal Irish Literary Renaissance figure and sheds new light on the itineraries of activism and literary engagement of the broader Revival movement.

French Political Travel Writing in the Interwar Years Apr 06 2021 This book studies travel writing produced by French authors between the two World Wars following visits to authoritarian regimes in Europe and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR). It sheds new light on the phenomenon of French political travel in this period by considering the well-documented appeal of Soviet communism for French intellectuals alongside their interest in other radical regimes which have been much less studied: fascist Italy, the Iberian dictatorships and Nazi Germany. Through analyses of the travel writing produced as a result of such visits, the book gauges the appeal of these forms of authoritarianism for inter-war French intellectuals from a broad political spectrum. It examines not only those whose political sympathies with the extreme right or extreme left were already publicly known, but also non-aligned intellectuals who were interested in political models that offered an apparently radical alternative to the French Third Republic. This study shows how travel writing provided a space for reflection on the lessons France might learn from the radical political experiments of the inter-war years. It argues that such writing can usefully be read as a form of utopian thinking, distinguishing this from colloquial understandings of utopia as an ideal location. Utopianism is understood neither as a fantasy ungrounded in the real nor as a dangerously totalitarian ideal, but, in line with Karl Mannheim, Paul Ricœur, and Ruth Levitas, as a form of non-congruence with the real that it seeks to transcend. The utopianism of French political travel writing is seen to lie not in the attempt to portray the destination visited as utopia, but rather in the pursuit of a dialogue with radical political alterity.

Keywords for Travel Writing Studies Jun 20 2022 In its attention to the 'keywords of travel', Keywords for Travel Writing Studies takes into account the established status of studies in travel writing and the field's significance for an audience beyond the academy. It responds to what might be described as the 'mobility turn' in the arts and humanities over the past two decades. Each entry in the volume is around 1,000 words, and the style is more essayistic than encyclopaedic, with contributors providing a reflection on their chosen keyword from a variety of disciplinary perspectives. The emphasis on travelogues and other cultural representations of mobility drawn from a range of national and linguistic traditions ensures that the volume has a comparative dimension; the aim is to give an overview of each term in its historical and theoretical complexity, providing readers with a clear sense of how the selected words are essential to a critical understanding of travel writing. Each entry is complemented by an annotated bibliography of five essential items suggesting further reading.

Een huis in Toscane Nov 20 2019 Als de Amerikaanse Frances Mayes een verlaten villa koopt op het platteland van Toscane treft ze verbleekte frescos aan onder het stucwerk in haar eetkamer, een wijngaard die is overgroeid door braamstruiken, en een verdwaalde schorpioen onder haar kussen. Op de markten van de stadjes in de naburige heuvels gaat Mayes op zoek naar de nuances van het Italiaanse landschap, de geschiedenis en de keuken. Vanuit haar moestuin bereidt zij heerlijke recepten die in dit boek zijn verzameld. Wat Peter Mayle deed voor de Provence doet Mayes in Een huis in Toscane _ ze schrijft met geestdrift en passie over de genoegens van een ander land. Een huis in Toscane is een wereldwijde bestseller, een must voor iedereen die van Italië houdt. Het boek is verfilmd als Under the Tuscan Sun met Diane Lane in de hoofdrol. Frances Mayes schrijft over koken en reizen voor The New York Times en Food and Wine. Zij woont afwisselend in San Francisco en in Cortona, Italië. Het is geen reisverhaal, geen kookboek, geen antropologische studie, geen autobiografie, geen geschiedenisboek, geen groengids en geen handleiding voor succesvol verbouwen. Het is dat allemaal tezamen. standaard der letteren Haar warme gevoelens voor Toscane weet Frances trefzeker te formuleren. de volkskrant Dit prachtig geschreven boek over wonen in Italië, de liefde voor een huis en allerlei culinaire genoegens is ideaal om cadeau te geven. Travel Writing for Tourism and City Branding Aug 10 2021 Travel Writing for Tourism and City Branding is an insightful, expert-led book which provides tourism students with a practice-based approach to producing researched literary travel writing on an urban destination, using the writing process as a research tool in itself. The book is scientifically supported with full academic references for researchers. On a global basis, city councils and destination managers are seeking new ways to commission and sponsor professional content authors as part of place-branding projects for tourism development. Given the increasing prevalence of such content within the tourism industry, this book provides a cohesive overview of literary travel writing, presenting it as an enquiry process that can be applied by writer-researchers to spaces that have value to them. Travel writing is presented as a methodological practice that researchers can learn and apply to their own projects, both in academic settings and in commercial city branding. Examples of literary travel writing are carefully examined throughout and their affects refracted through further work. Enriched with a wealth of case studies, chapters are presented in such a way that readers can take the work as a model for their own projects. This informative and practical volume will be of great interest to students of tourism marketing, destination marketing, place branding and travel writing, as well as current creators of commercial tourism marketing content.

Travel Writing in an Age of Global Quarantine Apr 25 2020 Travel Writing in an Age of Global Quarantine is an anthology of travel accounts by a diverse range of writers and academics. Challenging conventional academic 'authority', each contributor writes, from memory during the Covid-19 lockdown, about a place they have previously visited, 'accompanied' by an historical traveller who published an account of the same place. As immobility is forced upon us, at least for the immediate future, we have the chance to reflect. Travel Writing in an Age of Global Quarantine presents opportunities to approach a text as a scholar differently. We break with the traditional academic 'rules' by inserting ourselves into the narrative and foregrounding the personal, subjective elements of literary scholarship. Each contributor critiques an historical description of a place about which, simultaneously, they write a personal account.

Travel Writing, Form, and Empire May 27 2020 This collection of essays is an important contribution to travel writing studies -- looking beyond the explicitly political questions of postcolonial and gender discourses, it considers the form, poetics, institutions and reception of travel writing in the history of empire and its aftermath. Starting from the premise that travel writing studies has received much of its impetus and theoretical input from the sometimes overgeneralized precepts of postcolonial studies and gender studies, this collection aims to explore more widely and more locally the expression of imperialist discourse in travel writing, and also to locate within contemporary travel writing attempts to evade or re-engage with the power politics of such discourse. There is a double focus then to explore further postcolonial theory in European travel writing (Anglophone, Francophone and Hispanic), and to trace the emergence of postcolonial forms of travel writing. The thread that draws the two halves of the collection together is an interest in form and relations between form and travel.

Laatste trein naar Zona Verde Mar 25 2020 `Ik was weer gelukkig, terug in Afrika, rijk van het licht, schrijft Theroux wanneer hij begint aan een nieuwe reis: van Kaapstad naar Angola, dwars door het continent waar hij zoveel van houdt. Hij reist door de Kaapprovincie van Zuid-Afrika naar Namibië, waar hij een oude droom verwezenlijkt: de San (Bosjesmannen) bezoeken. Hij onderneemt een adembenemende olifantensafari in Botswana en belandt in Angola, bijna op de grens met Congo. Na meer dan vierduizend kilometer door de bush beëindigt hij zijn reis eerder dan hij van plan was, een beslissing waarover hij, teleurgesteld, genadeloos eerlijk schrijft.

Richard Hakluyt and Travel Writing in Early Modern Europe May 07 2021 Richard Hakluyt and Travel Writing in Early Modern Europe is an interdisciplinary collection of 24 essays which brings together leading international scholarship on Hakluyt and his work. Best known as editor of The Principal Navigations (1589; expanded 1598-1600), Hakluyt was a key figure in promoting English colonial and commercial expansion in the early modern period. He also translated major European travel texts, championed English settlement in North America, and promoted global trade and exploration via a Northeast and Northwest Passage. His work spanned every area of English activity and aspiration, from Muscovy to America, from Africa to the Near East, and India to China and Japan, providing up-to-date information and establishing an ideological framework for English rivalries with Spain, Portugal, France, and the Netherlands. This volume resituates Hakluyt in the political, economic, and intellectual context of his time. The genre of the travel collection to which he contributed emerged from Continental humanist literary culture. Hakluyt adapted this tradition for nationalistic purposes by locating a purported history of 'English' enterprise that stretched as far back as he could go in recovering antiquarian records. The essays in this collection advance the study of Hakluyt's literary and historical resources, his international connections, and his rhetorical and editorial practice. The volume is divided into 5 sections: 'Hakluyt's Contexts'; 'Early Modern Travel Writing Collections'; 'Editorial Practice'; 'Allegiances and Ideologies: Politics, Religion, Nation'; and 'Hakluyt: Rhetoric and Writing'. The volume concludes with an account of the formation and ethos of the Hakluyt Society, founded in 1846, which has continued his project to edit travel accounts of trade, exploration, and adventure.

Writing Travel Jan 23 2020 Examining a broad range of texts and travellers from across the world, the contributors discuss canonical authors such as Homer, Goethe, and Baudelaire, alongside lesser known writers such as Theodor Herzl, Hans Erich Nossack, and William Gibson. This theoretically rich volume draws connections between travel and narrative, and provides powerful insights into the relationship between travel and the spoken act of storytelling, as well as the more ambivalent act of story writing.

Essays on Unfamiliar Travel-Writing Aug 30 2020 This book comprises a number of essays on travel-narratives which are somewhat unknown to the general reader. They include writing by people who travelled from the East to the West, as well as those going the usual way. The travellers include a seventeenth-century accountant, a Persian shah, an Indian rajah and a Hawaiian king, as well as an Irish doctor, an American journalist and a Japanese poet. The book presents these travellers in an informal manner, although there are discussions about identity, "otherness" and stereotyping as they are displayed in the narratives. The book will appeal to students and academics, as well as the general reader.

New Directions in Travel Writing Studies Jul 09 2021 This collection focuses attention on theoretical approaches to travel writing, with the aim to advance the discourse. Internationally renowned, as well as emerging, scholars establish a critical milieu for travel writing studies, as well as offer a set of exemplars in the application of theory to travel writing.

Contemporary Travel Writing. Writers, Genres, and Themes Sep 30 2020 Seminar paper from the year 2021 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies - Literature, grade: 2,0, University of Graz, language: English, abstract: The field of contemporary travel writing will be analyzed by taking the three authors Paul Theroux, Bill Bryson and V. S. Naipaul into account. The aim is therefore to illustrate what makes contemporary travel writing special and how it differs from what has been written before. "The Old Patagonian Express", "Neither Here Nor There: Travels in Europe" and "An Area of Darkness" have been chosen in order to carry out this analysis.

The Best Travel Writing Aug 22 2022 Annotation An annual collection of the best travel writing of the year from big names in travel literature and emerging new writers. It presents points of view and perspectives that are global, and themes encompass high adventure, spiritual growth, romance, hilarity and misadventure, service to humanity, and encounters with exotic cuisines and cultures.

The Global Politics of Contemporary Travel Writing Mar 05 2021 To what extent do best-selling travel books, such as those by Paul Theroux, Bill Bryson, Bruce Chatwin and Michael Palin, tell us as much about world politics as newspaper articles, policy documents and press releases? Debbie Lisle argues that the formulations of genre, identity, geopolitics and history at work in contemporary travel writing are increasingly at odds with a cosmopolitan and multicultural world in which 'everybody travels'. Despite the forces of globalization, common stereotypes about 'foreignness' continue to shape the experience of modern travel. The Global Politics of Contemporary Travel Writing, first published in 2006, is concerned with the way contemporary travelogues engage with, and try to resolve, familiar struggles about global politics such as the protection of human rights, the promotion of democracy, the management of equality within multiculturalism and the reduction of inequality. This is a thoroughly interdisciplinary book that draws from international relations, literary theory, political theory, geography, anthropology and history.

Illusion and Disillusionment Sep 23 2022 Through engaging characters--China-bound missionaries, an Indo-Persian diplomat, a Turkish exile in India, a French teacher in America, Arab students in Moscow, a Japanese woman writer in Europe--Illusion and Disillusionment examines travel writing beyond colonialism, imperialism, and Orientalism, focusing on the experience of travel itself.

Travel Writing Jul 21 2022 Blanton follows the development of travel writing from classical times to the present, focusing in particular on Anglo-American travel writing since the eighteenth century. He identifies significant theoretical and critical contributions to the field, and also examines key texts by James Boswell, Mary Kingsley, Graham Greene, Peter Mathiessen, V.S. Naipaul, and Bruce Chatwin.

Venetië Dec 26 2022 Je leert een stad pas echt kennen als je in de straten en stegen ervan verdwaalt. Venetië, met al haar verstopte hoeken en gesloten poorten, omringd door de ontelbare lagunes, is gemaakt om de weg in kwijt te raken. Maar, zo weet de echte reiziger: de weg kwijtraken betekent het vinden van het mooiste wat een plek te bieden heeft. Cees Nooteboom is zo'n echte reiziger. Hij zoekt zijn weg langs gebeeldhouwde bogen en dobberende gondels en neemt de lezer mee achter het toeristische masker van de stad van het water. Vanaf de voorplecht van een vaporetto laat hij leven en kunst aan zich voorbijglijden. Zijn eerste indruk van Venetië publiceerde Nooteboom begin jaren tachtig, vele mijmeringen volgden. Dit voorjaar bezocht hij zijn geliefde stad opnieuw en besefte eens te meer dat in Venetië de verhalen nooit ophouden.

Travel Writing from Black Australia Feb 04 2021 Over the past thirty years the Australian travel experience has been 'Aboriginalized'. Aboriginality has been appropriated to furnish the Australian nation with a unique and identifiable tourist brand. This is deeply ironic given the realities of life for many Aboriginal people in Australian society. On the one hand, Aboriginality in the form of artworks, literature, performances, landscapes, sport, and famous individuals is celebrated for the way it blends exoticism, mysticism, multiculturalism, nationalism, and reconciliation. On the other hand, in the media, cinema, and travel writing, Aboriginality in the form of the lived experiences of Aboriginal people has been exploited in the service of moral panic, patronized in the name of white benevolence, or simply ignored. For many travel writers, this irony - the clash between different regimes of valuing Aboriginality - is one of the great challenges to travelling in Australia. Travel Writing from Black Australia examines the ambivalence of contemporary travelers' engagements with Aboriginality. Concentrating on a period marked by the rise of discourses on Aboriginality championing indigenous empowerment, self-determination, and reconciliation, the author analyses how travel to Black Australia has become, for many travelers, a means of discovering 'new'—and potentially transformative—styles of interracial engagement.

The Travel Writing Tribe Jul 29 2020 Where can travel writing go in the twenty-first century? Author and lifelong travel writing aficionado Tim Hannigan sets out in search of this most venerable of genres, hunting down its legendary practitioners and confronting its greatest controversies. Is it ever okay for travel writers to make things up, and just where does the frontier between fact and fiction lie? What actually is travel writing, and is it just a genre dominated by posh white men? What of travel writing's queasy colonial connections? Travelling from Monaco to Eton, from wintry Scotland to sun-scorched Greek hillsides, Hannigan swills beer with the indomitable Dervla Murphy, sips tea with the doyen of British explorers, delves into the diaries of Wilfred Thesiger and Patrick Leigh Fermor, and gains unexpected insights from Colin Thubron, Samanth Subramanian, Kapka Kassabova, William Dalrymple and many others. But along the way he realizes how much is at stake: can his own love of travel writing survive this journey? The Travel Writing Tribe tackles head on the fierce critical debates usually confined to strictly academic discussions of the genre. This highly original book compels readers and travelers of all kinds to think about travel writing in new ways.
